Northumberland County REAL ESTATE 'NET' SEARCH

Probably not since the advent of television has a medium so captivated and compelled the public as the internet. For those of us old enough to remember the early days of television, the 'NET' presents the same wonderment, intrigue and sense of adventure.

Pulla believes that great business breakthroughs occur at the intersection where technology and the needs of the clients meet. With this in mind, he has invested in a new state-of-the-art computer network and the development of what is probably the most comprehensive user friendly real estate website in Northumberland County.

NOW ... the most extensive single inventory of new and resale homes in Northumberland County is yours to view and information on each property is available for you to download at www.pulla.ca.

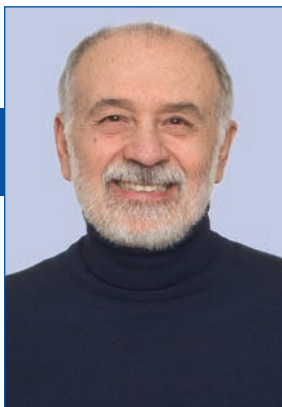

NOW ... visit our real estate website and preview our: Affordable Abodes; Commercial Connection; Condo Collection; Farms; Heritage Classics; Land and Lots; New Homes; Premier Properties; Rental Registry; Rural Residences; Urban Residences; Waterfront Properties.

NOW ... present reality demands that potential purchasers searching for a property to buy have the opportunity to conduct their own search, on their own time and on their own terms; thus it's imperative that a home be constantly and diligently 'Spotlighted' via an easily accessible internet site.

NOW ... if a real estate sales representative lacks a personal website (exclusive of conventional MLS® and his/her company's generic site) a vital element of the marketing process is missing and chances are that the properties in his/her portfolio are not receiving the maximum marketing exposure they deserve. The future is here now and if a real estate representative is still in the past how is he/she going to facilitate a buyer's property search now?

NOTE: Before signing a buyer agency agreement with a real estate sales representative make sure he/she has the ability to provide you with constant up-to-date, relevant information on properties that fit your needs.
